BUSINESS NOTICES.

EATING IS A TORTURE,

And sleep often a mere travesty of repose, to the dyspeptic. Appetite is correspondingly impaired by this most prevalent of maladies, and headaches, biliousness, constipation, poverty of the blood, loss of flesh and of vitality, and a thousand annoying and indescribable sensations, are its concomitants. It is, moreover, the progenitor of numerous and formidable bodily disorders. Obstinate as it is, however, its complete eradication may be effected by the persistent use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine which communicates both vigor and regularity to the organs of digestion and secretion, relaxes the bowels gently but thoroughly, enriches and purifies the blood, promotes appetite, and gives tranquility to the nervous system. Persons of weakly constitution and feeble physique who use this superb tonic infallibly derive from it the stamina of which they stand so much in need, and it is invariably successful in remedying and preventing malarial diseases.

VEGETINE

IS RECOMMENDED BY ALL

PHYSICIANS.

VALLEY STREAM, QUEENS CO., LONG ISLAND, N. Y.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—I take the pleasure of writing you a small certificate concerning Vegetine prepared by you. I have been a sufferer with the Dyspepsia for over forty years, and have had the Chronic Diarrhœa for over six months, and have tried most everything; was given up to die, and did not expect to live from day to day, and no physician could touch my case. I saw your Vegetine recommended to cure Dyspepsia. I commenced using it, and I continued doing so, and I am now a well woman and restored to perfect health. All who are afflicted with this terrible disease, I would kindly recommend to try it for the benefit of their health, and it is excellent as a blood purifier. By Dr. T. B. FORBES, M. D., for

MRS. WM. H. FORBES.

VEGETINE.—When the blood becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from change of weather or of climate, want of exercise, irregular diet, or from any other cause, the Vegetine will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the stomach, regulate the bowels, and impart a tone of vigor to the whole body.

VEGETINE

For CANCERS and

CANCEROUS HUMORS.

The Doctor's Certificate.

READ IT.

ASHLEY, WASHINGTON CO., PA., Jan. 14, 1878.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—This is to certify that I had been suffering from a Rose Cancer on my right breast, which grew very rapidly, and all my friends had given me up to die, when I heard of your medicine, Vegetine, recommended for Cancer and Cancerous Humors. I commenced to take it, and soon found myself beginning to feel better; my health and spirits both felt the benign influence which it exerted, and in a few months from the time I commenced the use of the Vegetine, the Cancer came out almost bodily.

CARRIE DEFOREST.

I certify that I am personally acquainted with Mrs. DeForrest, and consider her one of our very best women. DR. S. D. FLOWERS.

ALL DISEASES OF THE BLOOD.—If Vegetine will relieve pain, cleanse, purify, and cure such diseases, restoring the patient to perfect health after trying different physicians, many remedies, suffering for years, is it not conclusive proof, if you are a sufferer, you can be cured? Why is this medicine performing such great cures? It works in the blood, in the circulating fluid. It can truly be called the Great Blood Purifier. The great source of disease originates in the blood; and no medicine that does not act directly upon it, to purify and renovate, has any just claim upon public attention.

VEGETINE

I Regard it as a Valuable

FAMILY MEDICINE.

JANUARY 1, 1878.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—I take pleasure in saying, that I have used the Vegetine in my family with good results, and I have known of several cases of remarkable cure effected by it. I regard it as a valuable family medicine. Truly yours,

REV. WM. MCDONALD.

The Rev. Wm. McDonald is well known through the United States as a minister in the M. E. Church.

THOUSANDS SPEAK.—Vegetine is acknowledged and recommended by physicians and apothecaries to be the best purifier and cleanser of the blood yet discovered, and thousands speak in its praise who have been restored to health.

VEGETINE.

The M. D's Have It.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—I have sold Vegetine for a long time, and find it gives most excellent satisfaction.

CONGRESSIONAL MATTERS.

WASHINGTON, June 19.

THE LAST DAY OF CONGRESS.

We have a bright cool day for the termination of the session, and the night trains will carry hence crowds of Congressmen, many of whom are well aware that they have done little during the past eight months to merit the approval of their constituents.

THE OMNIBUS BILL.

The conference has come to a dead lock on several of the amendments added by the Senate. The House conferees say that they would rather have the bill fail than agree to some of the additions by the Senate.

A BUTLER SCHEME.

It is understood that Gen. Butler has set up a little scheme for defeating the Fishing Award Appropriation, but he can hardly succeed.

GREENBACKERS ALARMED.

The Greenback men who defeated the Senate Finance bill in the House are very much alarmed this morning at the situation, as they discover that they will be quoted on the stump as having voted against the proposition to sell four per cent. bonds for legal tenders and to receive custom duties in legal tenders. The consequence is an arrangement in making which may result today in the passage of the bill.

DEFEAT FOR THE INFLATIONISTS.

The inflationists, under lead of Tom Ewing, attempted to pass through the House the Banking and Currency bill to retire national bank notes. The measure was signally defeated.

LEGAL TENDERS FOR CUSTOMS.

A vote was then taken upon Mr. Southard's bill making legal tenders receivable for custom dues. Passed—151 yeas to 52 nays.

SENATOR MATTHEWS AND BUTLER

The Times' Washington special says Senator Matthews has no objection to go before the Potter committee, but the personal hostility of Butler is such that his friends feel justified in advising him not to place himself in a position where Butler can insult him.

THE POST ROUTE BILL PROBABLY LOST.

The failure of the regular post route bill seems certain. This will be owing to the Senate loading it down with the Brazilian subsidy. It carries with it, however, important sections, embracing the new classification of mail matter. As some compensation, it also carries down the franking privilege.

AN AGREEMENT ON THE HALIFAX AWARD BILL.

The conference have agreed upon the amendment made in the Senate appropriating five and one-half millions to pay the fishery award. So this is practically disposed of. The senate met and went into executive session as soon as the journal was read.

THE PEACE CONGRESS

BULGARIA CONSIDERED TODAY.

Turkish Preferences.

LONDON, June 19.

The Berlin Congress will last many weeks. It is expected Bulgaria will be the subject for consideration by the congress today.

LONDON, June 19.

The Berlin correspondent of the Manchester Guardian telegraphs that he is authorized to contradict the report that the Turkish plenipotentiaries are instructed to withdraw from the congress and declare that Turkey preferred to abide by the San Stefano treaty, if the congress voted autonomy to Edirus, Thessaly, Bosnia and Herzegovina.

VIENNA, June 19.

The Fredenblatt says Andrassy still insists that the Russian occupation of Bulgaria shall cease on the conclusion of a definite peace.

THE INDIAN MINING RIOTS.

Troops Sent from Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 19.

Judge Davidson, of Fountain county, telegraphed to Governor Williams today, for troops to assist in suppressing the riots among the miners. The Light Infantry leave here by a special train this afternoon. The Infantry were ordered simply as a precautionary measure. There has been no fresh disturbance at the mines, but a great deal of terrorism exists. The troops arrived at Covington by a special train at 4 o'clock and proceeded immediately to the mines, where they will remain. Adjutant General Ross accompanied the troops.

BISMARCK AND GORTSCHAKOFF.

Gortschakoff Savagely Attacked by Bismarck's Dog.

NEW YORK, June 19.

A despatch from Berlin says Gortschakoff and Beaconsfield had a long conference yesterday.

During an interview on Sunday between Bismarck and Gortschakoff the large Danish dog of Bismarck made a ferocious attack upon Gortschakoff, and it was only through the Herculean strength of his master that the dog was taken off and Gortschakoff's life saved.

A FAITHLESS CASHIER.

A Bank Wrecked.

TROY, N. Y., June 19.

Edwin Andrews, cashier of the Washington County National Bank of Greenwich, who committed suicide this morning by hanging was found with a revolver in his pocket.

The bank recently suspended, and is found entirely wrecked by the operations of the cashier, who has heretofore enjoyed a high reputation as a man and a Christian.

THE DOMINION.

The Montreal Labor Meetings.

MONTREAL, June 19.

Another meeting of unemployed laborers was held this morning. Two agitators unconnected with them made inflammatory speeches and were arrested by the police. The crowd was subsequently dispersed by a large body of officers, without resistance.

THE BERLIN CONGRESS.

A Prolonged Session Inevitable.

LONDON, June 19.

The illusion that the Berlin Congress would finish its work in ten days has given place to the conviction that it will last many weeks. The Congress meets again today at 2 o'clock P. M., when, it is expected Bulgaria will be the subject for consideration.

Fitzjohn Porter's Case.

WEST POINT, June 19.

The court appointed by President Hayes to examine the case of General Fitzjohn Porter will convene here on Monday next. The members are Generals Schofield, Terry and Getty. Porter's counsels are Joseph H. Choate and Anson Walthy, of New York, and John C. Bullitt, now of Philadelphia. Mr. Bullitt is a Democrat, the others Republicans.

An Abandoned Ship.—Some of the Crew Drowned.

ST. JOHN'S, N. B., June 19.

Ship Cambrian has been abandoned at sea. Part of the crew were drowned. She was owned in St. John and Liverpool and fully insured.

A Distillery Captured in a Catholic Chapel.

NEW YORK, June 19.

A large distillery was captured yesterday, at Brooklyn, in the cellar of Hecker's Catholic Chapel. It was running over 200 gallons of whiskey per day.

Safe Robbery.

GREENFIELD, Mass., June 19.

The postoffice safe at Shelborne Falls was blown open and robbed last night of about $500 in postage stamps; $125 in money and $2,500 worth of jewelry.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The New York Post thinks that it would be better for the friends of ex-Secretary Robeson in Congress to enable him to establish his innocence of alleged frauds by adopting the report of the Naval Committee recommending the trial of him and other officers of the Navy in the United States Courts.

The Indianapolis Journal apparently thinks the Cincinnati Commercial idea about a second term of Hayes is not so bad. "If this cry of 'fraud' is kept up against the president much longer," it says, "the people may take a notion to settle the matter and vindicate him by electing him for a second term."

The party that would declare in favor of a three months' session of Congress every four years would be mighty popular.—[Indianapolis Journal.

We have no hesitation in saying that the nation owes Mr. Hayes enduring obligations, and without being his partisan, or ever expecting to be, we shall never underrate his services nor depreciate his patriotism.—[Richmond (Va.) Dispatch.

If sufficient evidence to oust Mr. Hayes be obtained, the resolutions of Mr. Buchard will constitute no obstacle whatever against his ouster. They cannot be magnified into anything beyond an exhibition of the ignorance and the pusillanimity of a majority of the present House.—[New York Sun.

POLITICAL SUBSCRIPTIONS.—President Hayes has informed the Cabinet, with regard to contributions to campaign funds and assessments for political purposes, that he desires a recent letter addressed by a Secretary to one of his clerks upon that subject to be considered as embodying his own opinions and the rule governing the administration in its various branches. The letter informed the clerk that he was as free as any other citizen to spend his spare money in any legitimate way he pleased and as his political principles or public spirit might suggest.

A beautiful girl said to a wit: "Why don't you talk smart things to me? You're as dull as a footman when in my company. Don't you know anything to say to me?" "Oh!" he replied, gazing upon her with admiration, "even a footman can always answer the belle."

When she began, her property consisted of a few feet of real estate in a cemetery; now she is worth $20,000, and her practice brings her a yearly income about five times as large as the salary of a clerk in the Treasury Department. She is a widow, nearly fifty years of age and very attractive.

THE FARM AND GARDEN.

The time is near at hand in which to sow millet or Hungarian grass where such crops are desired for additional forage. Many are asking the question which is best to sow and as both kinds are comparatively new in this section it may be well to call attention to the subject :—

Hungarian grass was introduced into France in 1815, and the seed was subsequently distributed in the United States through the Patent Office in Washington. It makes excellent hay, being, when sown thick, much finer and quite as leafy as the Golden or German millet: for this reason the hay is considered superior. It is more liable to tumble down and lodge, which makes it often more difficult to harvest.

The Golden millet is a comparative stranger here, but has already made a favorable impression with many. It has a large stalk with broad, coarse leaves, the latter measuring one to one and one-half inches in breadth, and 16 to 20 inches in length, when the plant has attained its full growth in good soil. One would suppose to look at it that the straw would prove to be hard and dry when cured, and refused by stock; not so, however, but if cut at the proper time it will be sweet and tender, and relished by horses and cattle. When it gets a good start and begins to feel the hot weather it sends down strong, fibrous, feeding roots which serve a two fold purpose; they hold the stalk firmly in its place, thereby preventing it from lodging even in the hardest winds, besides, enables it to better withstand the injurious effects of a protracted drouth. Under the same circumstances it will yield a heavier crop than Hungarian.

The Hungarian and Golden millets are preferable to all others. They should never be sown till the ground is warm and the nights do not chill. From the 20th of this month to the 10th of July is a good time. It may be put in as late as the 1st of August, for the crop in a favorable time matures ready to cut in from six to eight weeks from the date of sowing.

Millet needs dry soil, not necessarily very rich, though of course if moderately so a better crop may be expected. A top dressing of some well rotted manure, or of chemical fertilizer is excellent, as it grows so rapidly that some slowly soluble dressing would not furnish plant food fast enough for the impatient plant.

The seed bed should be carefully prepared for millet, for the seed is very fine, that of the Golden variety not being much larger than a mustard seed. Plow well, harrow thoroughly, pulverize the lumps and push in the seed; if the land is in fair condition and the season is an average one, from two or three tons per acre may be safely expected. Last summer the season was against the crop, and some who raised it became discouraged. The wet weather and the chilly nights we had were rather unfavorable for it, and some fields blasted. The season was an unusual one. Again if one has a meadow that requires reseeding and it is not convenient to plant it, he can cut the grass from it early this summer, turn over the sod at once, get a good crop of millet from it and seed it down this Fall if he wishes,—at least it will be in fine condition to seed down in the Spring.

With regard to the quantity of seed per acre, if sown thinly it is apt to grow a coarse, stock fodder, and it is not so well relished by the cattle as when sown thickly, then it gives a finer, sweeter hay, giving greater satisfaction to both the farmer and his stock. To secure the most desirable results not less than a bushel to the acre should be used on rich ground, and this quanity may be diminished somewhat on poorer soil where the plant would grow less rank.

Another important matter in connection with this crop is the harvesting of it. It is a much more difficult crop to harvest than English hay—more like clover. To begin with bear in mind this fact that it should be cut when just in blossom. A little delay at the critical time mentioned is apt to result in over-ripening, or the formation of the seed, greatly to the injury of the fodder. Dead ripe millet is poor stuff. Better cut before than after the period above mentioned. It will take three good days to prepare it for the barn, but when it is housed in good condition you have a forage crop of great weight, sweet, nutritious, and one that horses and cattle will greedily devour. The above is written not alone for what we have learned of others, but from our own experience last season.

Now, regarding seeding down with millet, a question often asked us, we have seen reports of success in doing so, and have no recollection of an adverse report in relation to it. Here is what the Scientific Farmer says of this:

This crop requires too heavy seeding and too dense growth to be used as a seeding-down crop. If grass seed be sown with it, we are told that it becomes choked out. Hence it is best to grow it as a forage crop simply; and if seeding down to grass is desired, then when the Hungarian is cut and removed, sow winter rye and grass on the field; or if the season is propitious, grass seed alone. In this way our land does not remain idle, but yields largely.

THE WESTERN CORN CROP.

Gloomy reports of the growing corn crop in the West continue to be received daily. Our special correspondent, writing from Paola, Kan., says: "In the immediate vicinity of Hannibal, and in the high, rolling country along the Mississippi, the growing crops are all promising, but after leaving this region, and almost the entire distance across the state of Missouri, corn has a gloomy appearance. Wheat and the other small grains are promising. The wheat harvest will be general in about a week, on an average increased area of about 20 per cent. As was the case with the spring wheat crop of 1876, I now believe the distinguishing features for a poor crop will be excessive moisture and poor seed. This appears all the more reasonable when we consider the remarkably wet autumn, winter and spring. —American Exchange.

One evening our old friend, the Rev. Dr. ——, took tea with us. Out of politeness, I asked him to give thanks, forgetting for the moment the presence of my grandchild and the fact that the doctor was long-winded. The child startled us all right in the middle of the grace, by exclaiming, in a loud voice—"Oh! Amen! hand me the biscuit."—[Independent.

The great country houses of England have long been the admiration and despair of the rich men not only of this country but of continental Europe. Up to within a very few years there was nothing any way analogous to them, even in the way of imitation, except the few mansions and manor houses, like the Phillips House at Yonkers, which remained to us from colonial days. Such great houses, however, as that which Mr. Lockwood curiously planted at the edge of a salt marsh in Norwalk and that which has just been built for Mr. Lorillard at Newport are worthy to be compared in size and cost with the stately homes of England. Mr Lorillard's house, it appears also, from the full description of it which we print today, is worthy to be compared with them as an example of picturesque architecture. The increasing knowledge and taste of our architects and their clients find their best expression at Newport, in the department of villa architecture, at least; and the latest addition to a list which already contains several genuine architectural successes seems to be one of the most important as a work of art, as well as the most important in size and sumptuousness.—[The World.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections; also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French or English. THURSDAY, JUNE 20, 1878.

THE DAY.

They celebrated the return of peace to Cuba with a bull-fight.

The next session of the New England meeting of Friends will be held in Portland, Me.

It look now as if even the peace congress would be a failure, and the war cloud begins to darken. The latest reports are far from satisfactory.

And now it turns out that the Democrats elected their candidate for governor in Oregon. The Republicans still claim the minor state officers and are thankful for even small favors.

This is a good day for the opening at Rocky Point. We trust the season, that opens so auspiciously, will prove an equal success throughout. A still larger attendance is anticipated tomorrow.

There seems to be but one opinion as to the present Indian war which is bursting upon us and that is that the white men are wholly at fault. The Bannocks have been our best friends and have materially aided our troops in previous conflicts with other tribes. They have been cheated by agents and traders, and their supplies cut off until they must fight or starve. Gen. Crook says there is danger of serious and troublesome contests as several others are almost equally dissatisfied.

It was hoped that President Hayes would veto the River and Harbor bill which contemplates one of the greatest thefts of the times, but he did not and it has become a law. But this by no means signifies that all the eight or nine millions it covers are to be paid out. The expenditures ordered by this bill are to a large extent discretionary with the executive, and Mr. Hayes will doubtless follow Gen. Grant's example in refusing to authorize the waste of money, while continuing all the really important works.

It is believed by many that Emperor William will die of his wounds. If so there is trouble in store for Europe. The assassin is improving and affords a strong argument in favor of capital punishment. The Republicanism of Europe has gone mad and is the most dangerous element in national affairs. Its history has been a record of murders and bloodshed and with such manifestations of its spirit and temper it is not strange that some people still believe in the divine right of kings. Even tyranny is better than anarchy.

The workmen are engaged in trimming the trees on Touro park and taking the vines from the Old Stone Mill. Visitors can now see the structure once more and study the ruin to their hearts content. It might be a good plan to have an arbor in the park covered with vines and flowers, which would add greatly to the attractiveness of the locality. Considerable mortar and many stones came down with the vines showing that they had become loosened and that the vines were rapidly destroying the whole structure. Many persons possessed themselves of souvenirs in the shape of mortar, but we trust that such a general distribution of the old relic will not take place again for a long time to come, if ever. We observe also, that various parties about town are giving heed to the Mayor's proclamation and are trimming up their trees.

ABOUT CANARY BIRDS.

Place the cage so that no draught of air can strike the bird. Give nothing to healthy birds but rape and canary seed, water, cuttlefish bone, and gravel-paper or sand on the floor of the cage. No hemp seed. A bath three times a week. The room should not be overheated—never above seventy degrees. When moulting (shedding feathers) keep warm, avoid all draughts of air. Give plenty of German rape seed; a little hard boiled egg, mixed with crackers grated fine, is excellent. Feed at a certain time in the morning. By observing these simple rules birds may be kept in fine condition for years. For birds that are sick or have lost their song procure bird lonic at a bird store. Very many keep birds who mean to give their pets all things to make them bright and happy, and at the same time are guilty of great cruelty in regard to perches. The perches in a cage should be each one of different size, and the smallest as large as a pipe stem. If perches are of the right sort no trouble is ever had about the bird's toenails growing too large; and of all things keep the perches clean.—[Fancier.

A HANDSOME GIFT.

ELEVEN OFFICERS OF PALESTINE COMMANDERY OF NEW YORK VISIT WASHINGTON COMMANDERY,—THEY BRING AN ELEGANT TESTIMONIAL TO THE LATTER.—THEY ALSO REMEMBER SIR KNIGHT LAWRENCE.—SPEECHES, BANQUET AND A GENERAL GOOD TIME.

Last evening the following members of Palestine Commandery, Knights Templar, visited this city and were sumptuously entertained by Washington Commandery:—

Eminent Commander—George W. Skellon.
Past Eminent Commander—John P. Baldwin.
Generalissimo—Horace H. Brockway.
Captain-General—Thomas B. Rand.
Treasurer—William R. Carr.
Recorder—James A. Rich.
Judge Advocate—James A. Gedney.
Guard—William M. McDermott.
Sir Knights—John H. Woods and William H. Chapman.

After the usual exercises, the visiting brethren were welcomed in a brief but appropriate speech by Eminent Commander, William Gilpin.

Eminent Commander Skellon briefly responded. And now came a great surprise in the shape of an expensive testimonial.

Judge Gedney stepped forward and in a speech that would do credit to the ablest lawyer in New York, presented to the commandery in behalf of Palestine Commandery, a full Libation service, of silver, lined with gold, for the courtesies extended to that body when they visited Newport last summer. On the return of the commandery to New York it was determined to visit Newport at some future day and show to the citizens of Newport, and Washington Commandery in particular, that they were under deep obligations to them for their kind treatment upon that occasion.

Eminent Commander Gilpin responded as follows:—

Sir Knights: The beautiful present which you have made me quite throws into the shade anything I may have done on the occasion it recalls. As the secret of it was confided to men whose business it is to keep a secret it comes upon me as an entire surprise, and I want words in which to express my thanks.

As I was looking over, today, the New York papers, and reading the account of the expedition of the bankers of the metropolis to Atlantic City, I thought how, after all, the history of the world is only the history of excursions in which men went in search of something which they never got and from which they often brought back something which was never expected at all.

Jason went in search of the golden peace and he brought back a wife. The knights templar went in search of the tomb of our Lord and they brought back the learning and refinement of the Greek Empire. They brought back also the beautiful order to which we belong.

Sir Walter Raleigh induced James I to release him from the Tower of London that he might go in search of gold and lost his head because he only brought back tobacco and potatoes which have been worth more to humanity than all the wealth of the fabled kingdom of Cathay.

You came here in search of a sea-bath and you brought back so flattering an opinion of Newport that you are here tonight with a present or memorial as beautiful as it is undeserved and which will be long and fondly cherished.

The present consists of twenty-five pieces viz:—twelve large candlesticks, twelve goblets and a large pitcher, all of which are called the working tools of commanderies, and there is nothing that will equal it in Rhode Island. The set, it is understood, cost $500.

This was not all the testimonial they had brought. Judge Gedney, turning to Sir Knight Isaac Lawrence presented to that gentleman, a certificate of honorary membership in Palestine Commandery bound in album form with bevelled edges and gilt panel work on the leaves. It will be remembered that Palestine Commandery were handsomely entertained by Mr. Lawrence at Ochre Point last summer. It was a testimonial which the recipient will keep and cherish and hand down as an heir loom to his children. Speeches were made by several present, the principal one being by Sir Knight Lawrence who said substantially as follows:—

Mr. Chairman and Sir Knights:—

I think that I am only expressing the feelings of the commandery when I say that nothing ever gives us greater pleasure than to receive as our guests the Templars of other states.

When Napoleon, the first said that the English were a nation of shopkeepers he meant to imply that commercial prosperity was dearer to them than national honor. This cannot be said of the people of the United States, for the vast number of commanderies in every state in the union is a guarantee to the contrary.

Your presence, Sir Knights of Palestine Commandery, in Newport, last summer, will be long remembered. The perfection of your work, the elegance of your uniforms, the excellence of your band all proved to the citizens of other states who were temporarily residents here, as well as to ourselves that the Empire State has a just claim to the title she bears.

Her first constitution followed by one year the Declaration of Independence, and was framed whilst the British held Long Island and the city of New York. I say her first constitution, for she went on perfecting her constitution till the shackles were stricken from the operative and the slave, till universal suffrage was extended to white and black, and every poor man had equal political rights with the richest in the state. Hence she elects statesmen who are not silent drawers of pay in Washington, but take part in every debate, and maintain her dignity in both Houses in Congress. The opinions of the judges are cited as authority in other states, and the names of Kent and Spencer are dear to the profession in every land.

The Erie canal which connects the lakes with the ocean, through the Hudson River, and makes Canada an outlying province of New York, supplying her with lumber, grain and cattle, gives immortality to the name of Clinton.

On a recent occasion the Chief Justice of the Marine Court of the city of New York received in the interior of France, in the province of Touraine, an honor not often conferred upon Americans, a public dinner presided over by the Marquis de Talleyrand-Perigord, who himself married an American lady, and inherits the rank and honors of that illustrious house from which sprang the great Prince Talleyrand of whom Thiers says "Born of one of the most illustrious families, destined to arms from his birth, condemned to the priesthood by an accident which deprived him of the use of one foot, having no taste for this forced profession, becoming successively prelate, courtier, revolutionist, émigré and finally minister of state, M. de Talleyrand had preserved something of all these conditions in life. You could see in him the Bishop, the grand seignor and the revolutionist."

This tribute to the civil power of our country is very grateful at this time, when the military governments of Europe are striving to make every effort in favor of the rights of the people seem like a new phase of communism, as recently displayed in Germany, and look with satisfaction on any outrage on constitutional liberty in any part of the world.

It is for us to prove that Knightly refinement goes hand in hand with the Democratic institutions. It is a great source of safety to our Republic that she has a citizen soldiery trained to arms and perfect in military discipline. The moral of an army is its grand source of strength. The ruling principle of the templar of today is, as it was of old, to protect the weak against the strong and carry out the theory Fiat justitia ruat Cœlum. Let justice be done at the risk of commercial prosperity.

Rhode Island gave her adhesion to those principles when she placed in the national capitol the statues of Williams and of Greene. Williams representing civil and religious liberty, Greene the will and the power to enforce them.

Silent expositors of the feelings of this state they speak as eloquently as any of her representatives have ever spoken of her love of Honor, Truth and Justice—principles deeply imbedded in the hearts of her people and any disregard of which on the part of her rulers she will not overlook.

Excellent addresses were made by Judge Gedney, Eminent Commander Skellen, John Dean, Grand Commander of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, Nelson W. Aldrich, Deputy Grand Commander of Rhode Island and Massachusetts, and Tracy P. Cheever, Past Grand Senior Warden of the Lodge of Massachusetts.

At about 11 o'clock the guests, with members of Washington Commandery, sat down to a grand banquet which had been prepared in the hall of the Bellevue Dramatic Club, under the supervision of Mr. Silas Dickerson, which is proof that it gave satisfaction.

At the supper the Eminent Commander of Palestine Commandery was presented with a magnificent basket of flowers by Sir Knight John Fadden. After the banquet the time was spent in a very social manner, and it will long be remembered. At an early hour this morning the visitors were driven to Seaconnet Point where they partook of a Rhode Island shore breakfast prepared by Sir Knight Thomas Burlingham. They will be driven about town this afternoon and will return to New York in the evening.

RUM RIOT IN MAPLEVILLE.

ONE RIOTER SHOT RECKLESSLY WITH FATAL EFFECT.

Tuesday night, at about midnight, a row, followed by shooting, took place in Mapleville, by which it is probable that the victim will lose his life. Tuesday was pay day at the mills, and was followed as usual by a spree on the part of some of the operatives. A large party congregated in the saloon kept by Joseph Laundry, a French Canadian, opposite to the residence of Mr. Nelson Armstrong, from whom he rents the building. Towards midnight, the party becoming quite intoxicated and noisy, they were put out of the saloon, and it was closed. Several of them were crazy for another drink and attempted to beat in the door with stones and clubs. Mr. Armstrong was aroused, and fearing damage to the property and injury to the saloon-keeper, took his revolver and went out in his night clothes to disperse the rioters. As soon as they saw him some of them cried out, "a ghost, a ghost," and fairly broke into the saloon with the energy of their fear; but one of the party, an Englishman named Samuel Hoyle, said that he wasn't afraid of any ghost. "He had tackled one in England and got the best of it." So saying he seized a stone and hit Mr. Armstrong on the side of the head with it, knocking him down. He then commenced kicking his unprotected shins and otherwise injuring him. Mr. Armstrong, who is an elderly man of over sixty years of age, finally managed to get up, when Hoyle, who is a brawny six-footer of great size and strength, seized him by the throat and choked him severely. Mr. Armstrong lifted his revolver and fired a shot, the bullet tearing through Hoyle's hand and striking him in the body between the fifth and sixth ribs. The neighborhood had been aroused by the tumult and Hoyle was taken in charge by Mr. Wm. A. Inman, in whose mill he had been employed. Dr. E. V. Granger was called and gave the necessary attention, but the wound could not be probed, and will probably prove fatal from internal hemorrhage. Armstrong, who was considerably bruised, was removed to his house. Hoyle was about thirty-two years of age, and had been in this place but a few days. He was a weaver by trade and had been married but a short time previously, his wife remaining in Worcester, which was his last place of residence.—[Prov. Journal.

TRIFLING WITH THE PEOPLE.

Both the Senate and the House of Representatives have appointed special committees to look into the condition of the laboring men of the country. We shall hear from both committees during the approaching Congressional canvass. The Democratic candidates will refer to the one appointed by the House of Representatives as evidence of the deep regard which the Democratic party has for the welfare of the hard-handed son of toil, while the similar Republican committee of the Senate will enable Republican candidates to "point with pride" to the assistance which their party has always given to the workingmen, first by freeing the black laborer, and now by intelligent efforts for the relief of the white laborer.

We have no patience with this demagogic and fruitless treatment of a grave and serious question. It is an important duty of government to employ rational and safe means for the promotion of the welfare of the people, but it is wicked and dangerous to use the poverty of any class for political purposes. If the present Congress had passed a just and sensible tariff bill it would have done more for the laboring classes than can be done by any investigation which any party can set on foot, and it also would thus have given some evidence that it had the capacity to make an intelligent use of such economic facts as were within its knowledge. Instead of doing this statesmanlike thing, we are again put off with one of the stalest and cheapest of political artifices, a promise of doing something.—[Evening Post.

A RECOGNITION.—At an Odd Fellows' hall the other day a young man in the medicinal line came suddenly face to face with a dear, kind, old, fatherly-looking gentlemen with white hair, of highly respectable and almost Biblical appearance.

They both stood transfixed. The same idea flashed across both of them. "Your face is familiar to me, very familiar; but I can't remember where we have met so often." However, the friendly impulse was carried out; they shook hands warmly, partook of a friendly glass, and departed, still ignorant of each other's name and occupation.

But the young man was determined to solve the problem, and he seized on the waiter, and said to him: "Tell me, waiter, who is that distinguished stranger, with the white hair all about him?" And the waiter whispered slowly: "Please, sir, that's the pawnbroker."—[London Truth.

—Dr. A. F. Angell, dentist, in Bateman Building, has added another room to his office which greatly adds to his facilities and to the comfort of his patients.

—There is a general movement among the abuttors on north Broadway to replace the plank sidewalk with concrete. The improvement is one that is much needed.

—Mr. John F. Hanson, of Iowa, an approved minister of the Society of Friends will speak at the Thames Street M. E. Church this evening. Swedes, Norwegians and others are respectfully invited to attend.

—The Sunday sound boats to and from New York will begin running next Sunday night. The summer arrangement on the Old Colony railroad will probably go into effect on Monday.

—There was an error in the report published yesterday concerning the sale of real estate made by Wm. Beach Lawrence to Pierre Lorillard. The sale covered about ten acres and the price was $86,147.21.

—The Asylum Commissioners visited the institution on Coasters Harbor Island yesterday to look over the building preparatory to beginning the work of improvement on the basement. A thorough inspection of the premises was made and the affairs of the institution discussed. Plans will be prepared and submitted at a future meeting.

—Lawrence McGrath died very suddenly at Bowler's stable last evening. He had been ill during the day, and as night drew on he crawled away by himself and died. Dr. Stanton visited him early in the day. Coroner Topham held an inquest, the verdict being that the deceased came to his death by excessive drink.

—The steam yacht Estelle, built by Mr. Herreshoff, the blind boat builder of Bristol, and which caused so much interest recently by being watched for several weeks by a revenue cutter, on suspicion that she was intended as a Cuban privateer, has been sold by Herman Kobbe of New York, for whom she was built, and will be used as a mail boat between New Orleans and Algiers, La.

—As has already been announced, Bulwer's great and admired play in five acts, entitled the Lady of Lyons, will be given at the Opera House, next Tuesday evening with the support of the Boston Museum and Boston Theatre cast combined, which is undoubtedly one of the most attractive announcements that could be desired. The cast will include Charles Barron, for many years leading favorite of the Boston Museum, as Claude Melnott; Mrs. Thomas Barry, the universal favorite and leading lady of the Boston Theatre, as Pauline; with C. Leslie Allen, D. J. Maguinnis, H. A. Cripps, Mark M. Price, J. B. Sullivan, F. G. Cotter, J. W. Hague, Mrs. M. A. Pennoyer, Mrs. C. L. Allen, Miss Emma Smiley and a host of others. The sale of tickets will open on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

THE FRIENDS' MEETING.

WEDNESDAY MORNING.

The men assembled at 10 A. M. Prayer was offered by J. T. Pennington after which there were earnest expressions of thankfulness that Christ is our burden-bearer, not one who helps bear our burdens, but who bears them for us. After the opening minute was read: one on the state of society as found by the answers to the queries stated that there is a large field in our own church for labor and counseled the putting forward of our younger members into suitable services that they may not seek other fields, that this church may be "a city set on a hill that cannot be hid."

The subject of Peace was next in order, and earnest remarks were made that something may be done to avert war, recommending to publish to the world that we do not believe in war under any circumstances. There were a few minutes of silence and vocal prayer, that the congress assembled at Berlin may have wisdom of God to assist in its decisions.

The Report on Education was received and accepted and much counsel to earnest attention to this subject was given by A. K. Smiley and others. Adjourned to 1 P. M.

The woman's meeting opened its morning session at 10 o'clock. Mary White, of Scotland spoke from Heb. 12: 1, unfolding to us some of her rich experiences in the work which has especially claimed the attention of her riper years, the orphan's home in her native city, and the uplifting and christianizing of the female inmates of prisons that has later filled her heart and hands. The touching account of her labor and what her eyes have seen was closed by an earnest call to her sisters to be about their Masters business, and was heartily endorsed by Elizabeth Mallison, of New York, in eloquent and forcible language, setting forth the urgent necessity of a decisive choice in Christian labor, lest we fritter away our lives in good resolutions.

The report of the Boarding School Committee was read. Some few declined to accept it, but so many were the evidences of the success in all the interests of the school that it was accepted and the same committee was re-appointed. Vocal music was warmly discussed, the most of the speakers endorsing its introduction into the school. Remarks by Martha Jay, Eliza Smiley, Sarah T. Tobey, E. Comstock, Rachel Howland, Abigail M. Hanson and others were very interesting and satisfactory to the meeting. Hannah Arnet endorsed the expression that much good interest in the religious training of the children was apparent. M. Alice Gifford said that "by their fruits ye shall know them," and she rejoiced to see the fruit of that school. Adjourned till 4 o'clock P. M.

MEN'S MEETING.

Men's meeting met at 4 P. M. Report of the committee to nominate a committee on general meetings was first considered. The church has work after the meetings are held. Pastoral care will prevent the loss of dear children and will redound upon the church, strengthening its laborers in each department of service. J. W. Hanson said reclaiming was more difficult than the first work of evangelizing. J. P. Pennington offered a fervent prayer for the committee.

Report of committee on Freedmen's Institute at Maryville, Tenn., and an accompanying recommendation to take a deed unconditionally and appropriate $500 to meet the present demand for running expenses was unanimously accepted.

The subject of conveyance of property was decided, and past act of the meeting signed by men's clerk only, confirmed.

Proposition from Vassalborough quarterly meeting calling for the yearly meeting to be held in Portland, Maine, in 1879, was readily united with. Interesting statements by Friends from Portland of the interest the citizens take in our meetings in their city were gratifying.

Edward Howland of New Bedford called for a committee on finance to consider all expenditures of funds and the financial ability of the yearly meeting.

The representatives were instructed to confer together and nominate a man from each quarterly meeting for this service.

An interesting epistle from Kansas Yearly Meeting was read and accepted.

Report of Committee on Passamaquoddy and Penobscot Indians. These Indians are under the influence of Catholics, to some extent retarding our influence. $27 of last year's appropriation has been expended. $50 was appropriated by this meeting for the coming year.

The meeting adjourned to 4 P. M., Thursday.

WOMEN'S MEETING.

Soon after the opening of the Women's meeting Alida Clark of Arkansas, gave some information respecting her work among the freedmen, and the monthly meeting of colored friends at Southland, which was interesting.

Report of Bible School Committee was next considered. It recommended the introduction of a triple pledge. There are now Bible schools in every meeting. In 1850 there were but 16 in the Yearly Meeting. Much counsel was offered by different persons who are interested and engaged in the Bible school work. Harriet Jones gave some very pleasing accounts of her observations while going about among these schools.

The committee for disbursement of Mosher fund was reappointed, its last year's service being acceptable. The subjects considered were very interesting and much condescending courtesy manifested as becomes people of the profession.

PEACE MEETING.

The evening session opened at 7.45, Eli Jones presiding. The Peace question was the subject before the meeting. Wm. Jacobs read from Luke 2nd, and Jacob Baker offered prayer. Eli Jones stated the object of the evening was to view peace from a Christian standpoint. All strife, envy, jealousy, and evil thinking of each other is inconsistent with New Testament teaching.

J. F. Hanson read from Isaiah 8th, 20th and Matt. 5, Romans 12, which tells what the apostle understands this Peace to be. He charges the church and the ministers with the responsibility of this evil. It would take less than five years to convince that war is wrong if one-third of the ministers would teach fully and faithfully the exact principles of Peace. He said we ought never to take life even in self-defence. Alida Clark made an animating speech. She believes in Peace, and has a strong faith that all persons can understand it by earnest efforts of advocates everywhere.

E. Mallison said the time is coming when all differences shall be settled without war. Study the Bible and receive the Baptism of the Holy Ghost and all fright will be banished from our hearts. Wm. Jacob said: What are we to obey? the law or the Gospel? He gave an eloquent statement of the convincing argument to defeat the death penalty law in the state of Maine, which was an appropriate concluding speech for the evening.

The meeting was very full and attention good.

MEETING THIS MORNING

The morning meeting was full and many testimonies were offered. At 10.20 A. M. the regular service was opened in the large room with prayer by Anthony Kimber, of Philadelphia. Elkanah Beard gave a lucid description of a visit to a king in Benares, India—which gave the listeners much clearness to understand that New Testament scripture, the Marriage Feast, where was found a man without a wedding garment. He referred to necessity of purity of spiritual attire—thought some of the young converts might be too careful of outward adorning—these he counseled to seek spiritual food. The bread of life being divested of unnecessary preparations, outwardly they will be clothed and fed so that they will be fitted for service. He enjoys the beauties of nature and would be glad if the fragrance of some hearts would come up as freely and far spread as the fragrance of our flower beds. Admonished to faithfulness, looking to Jesus for complete deliverance, to come together in love and power of the Lord Jesus. He closed with a touching appeal to the young to come forward and be clothed with Christ's righteousness.

J. F. Hanson followed in remarks founded upon the words "Blessed are they who are called to the marriage supper." He rejoiced that all are called.

Irena Beard earnestly addressed the fathers and mothers to ask God to give the children now.

E. Comstock offered fervent prayer for salvation of children of the families here represented—for earnest soul culture—for patience for the young mothers—for wisdom for fathers and business men—for the young men and maidens—for aged pilgrims whose declining years and consequent infirmities make the grasshopper a burden—for the sisterly unity in church relations which will honor God and comfort the church.

Attendants upon the yearly meeting from abroad are reminded that the Newport Journal, printed on Friday afternoon, will contain a full summary of the meetings of the week. The paper will be mailed to any address, with no charge for postage, on leaving orders with Mr. Nichols at his book room in the north end of the meeting house, or at the News office, 19 Church street.

BROWN UNIVERSITY.

This ancient and honorable institution of learning, in which all Rhode Islanders take especial interest is just closing one of its most enjoyable commencement exercises. The past year has been a very successful one in the history of the college. Under the management of President Robinson it has had uninterrupted prosperity, and now gives promise of a long continued usefulness.

The present graduating class is unusually large and the degrees were confirmed in due form yesterday. The following honorary degrees were also given:—

Master of Arts—The Rev. George Edwin Horr, of Worcester, Mass.

Doctor of Laws—Samuel Greene Arnold, of the class of 1841; and Alexander Lyman Holley, of the class of 1843.

Doctor of Divinity—Adoniram Judson Gordon, of the class of 1860; and the Rev. Charles Stanford, of Camberwell, London, England.

For trustees of the university the vote was declared as follows:—

It is told of Robert Lincoln that when he was a boy—student at Phillips Academy—his father having just been made President—he with divers other students, played some innocent but mischievous pranks on the citizens of Exeter, such as making amusing changes of gates and signs in the night time. The citizens naturally did not like it, and the students, with the exception of Lincoln, were called to the justice's office next morning to answer for their mischief. Then forth stepped young Lincoln, in a manly way, and said, "I see by the reading of the warrant that many of my school comrades are charged with committing offences last evening against good order and the peace and dignity of this pleasant village. I was in company with many of the parties mentioned in that warrant, and if they are guilty of the charges therein set forth, I am equally amenable before the law. I therefore ask, before proceedings commence, that this warrant shall be amended by having my name inserted with the rest of my comrades, for I do not desire any person to shoulder any responsibility rightfully belonging to myself." No objection being made, the warrant was amended, also the certificate of summons, and all the students, including the President's son, were fined.

William Campbell, the Scotch giant, and rival of the famous Daniel Lambert, has just died in Newcastle. The coffin in which he was buried was 7 feet long, 3½ feet wide and 2 feet 10 inches deep. As he died in a room in the third-story of the inn which he kept, the window and brickwork to the level of the floor had to be taken out, and the coffin was lowered by means of a block and tackle to the carriage prepared to convey it to the cemetery. The coffin and body together weighed about a ton.

DOMESTIC DIPLOMACY.

She was watching at the window,
As I hurried down the street,
In the simple brown merino
That I fancy looks so neat,
And her smile I thought portentious—
It was so exceeding sweet,

Then she met me at the thresh-hold
With a very loving kiss
That recalled the early stages
Of our matrimonial bliss—
And I felt at once a tremor—
Was there anything amiss?

No! the children were all quiet,
And the hearth was very bright,
And my pet—our roguish Charlie—
Was quite vestal in his white;
Yet I feared myself for something,
Be that something what it might.

My chair was near the fire,
And my slippers by its side—
My pipe was very handy,
And my papers open wide;
And she wore a pretty breast-pin
That I gave her when a bride.

The dinner was perfection;
It was layish without waste;
The soup was vermicelli,
And exactly to my taste!
While the dessert was a triumph
Of artistic skill and paste.

And when the meal was over,
And the inner man at rest,
She drew her chair beside me,
With the baby on her breast,
I felt, and so I told her,
I was one among the blest.

Oh, the smile of tender radiance
That illumined all her face,
As I clasped her to my bosom
In the lovers fond embrace;
It was then she softly whispered,
"Won't you let me have that lace?"

STEWART'S ESTATE.

THE ESTIMATED SHRINKAGE FROM REAL ESTATE DEPRECIATION.

[Correspondence Hartford Times.]

Stewart provided in his will that all his business and the real estate directly connected with it should be inherited by Judge Hilton, who had been his confidential adviser for several years. All his other real estate he bequeathed to his wife. The actual value of the business and of the real property connected with it was not publicly known then nor has been made known since. The whole was estimated at thirty millions, and I am inclined to think that figure was not much out of the way. It included the wholesale house at Chambers street, the retail house at Tenth street and some twenty mills engaged in manufacturing for the firm. All the hotel property was outside of the business, and, together with a number of houses in different parts of the city went to Mrs. Stewart. Those who speak of decline say that the business part of the estate is worth $5,000,000 less today than at Stewart's death, and some of them predict that five years more will produce bankrupcy. Such predictions, however, are sometimes mere folly and this may be one of that sort. The estimated value of the entire real estate in this city in 1875 was $10,000,000. This included the two stores, which were supposed to be worth $3,000,000. The uptown store is built on leased ground and the fee is therefore not so valuable as might be supposed. Deducting the value of the stores, which became the property of Hilton, the real estate bequeathed to Mrs. Stewart was worth $7,000,000 a year before her husband's death. As much of this property is situated in parts of this city which are steadily going backward, such as Bleeker street, Amity street, Ninth street, Prince street, and so on, its value has undergone a serious decline since that time. Good judges say that at least $2,000,000 must be taken off for depreciation. They speak in the same way of the property at Hempstead, and with probably as much reason. There is no doubt that the whole estate has shrank several millions since Stewart's death, but then it is not by any means certain that the same thing would not have happened if Mr. Stewart were still alive. Some very shrewd business men have become bankrupt in the past three years.

A TRUE LADY.—Beauty and style are not the purest passports to respectability—some of the noblest specimens of womanhood the world has ever seen have presented the plainest and most unprepossessing appearance. A woman's worth is to be estimated by the real goodness of her heart, and the purity and sweetness of her character; and such a woman, with a kindly disposition and a well-balanced mind and temper, is lovely and attractive, be her face ever so plain, and her form ever so homely: she makes the best of wives and truest of mothers. She has a higher purpose in life than the beautiful, yet vain and supercilious woman, who has no higher purpose than to flaunt her finery in the streets, or satisfy her inordinate vanity by attracting flattery and praise from a society whose compliments are as hollow as they are insincere.

Hall's Air Draught Carpet Sweeper.

Your attention is respectfully solicited to a NEW and RADICALLY IMPROVED CARPET SWEEPER, which from its PECULIAR SCIENTIFIC CONSTRUCTION, is SIMPLE and EFFICIENT action and FREEDOM from all objections of other SWEEPERS or BRUSH renders it FAR SUPERIOR to any known device for removing the DUST or DIRT from the SURFACE of the CARPET.

Among the MANY advantages it possesses are the following:

It contains neither BRUSH or COG-WHEEL.

It removes the dust FROM the CARPET instead of INTO it.

It does NOT make any DUST in the room.

It will remove the DUST from the CORNERS and sides of the ROOM.

It will NOT wear the carpet.

It is almost NOISELESS.

It is NOT liable to get out of order.

A rotating CURRENT of AIR is passed over the Carpet, taking with it any Dust, Dirt, Papers, Feathers, Canary Seeds, Crumbs, Pins, Thread or Lint with which it may come in contact, and depositing them in a receptacle from which they can be removed at pleasure.

The NEATNESS with which this little Machine does its work, and the EASE with which it is operated, will be appreciated by every housekeeper who examines it.
